Who We Are

Rogue Journeymen and the Belt Brigade are the creations of Chris Kelly who is behind the influential adventure bicycle shop Topanga Creek Outpost which was awarded California Small Business of the Year in 2015. Situated in the rustic and idyllic Topanga Canyon, Rogue Journeymen leather and canvas goods are all handcrafted with inspirations drawn from the rugged canyon surroundings.

The Belt Brigade is a genuine retired fire truck that's been converted into a pop-up leather goods manufacturer on wheels. Available for all types of events, the Belt Brigade was designed to engage and captivate its audience and can make a lasting impression for those in wedding parties, corporate outings, and private events.
